

THE LIVING THE GLOBAL CITY SERIES, THE UBC AND SFU URBAN STUDIES PROGRAMS, AND THE DEPARTMENTS OF HISTORY AT UBC AND SFU INVITE YOU TO

Of Race and Rust

What we can Learn from Urban Inequality in the United States

Thomas J. Sugrue

Edmund J. and Louise W. Kahn Professor of History and Sociology, University of Pennsylvania

Thomas J. Sugrue, a specialist in twentieth-century American politics, urban history, and race relations, was educated at Columbia, King's College Cambridge, and Harvard, where he earned his Ph.D. in 1992. Among his many publications, the most influential is The Origins of the Urban Crisis (Princeton, 1996), which won the Bancroft Prize in American History, the Philip Taft Prize in Labor History, the President's Book Award of the Social Science History Association, and the Urban History Association Award for best Book in North American Urban History. It was selected a Choice Outstanding Academic Book, an American Prospect Top-Shelf book on Race and Inequality, and a Lingua Franca Breakthrough Book on Race. In 2005, Princeton University Press selected The Origins of the Urban Crisis as one of its 100 most influential books of the past one hundred years and published a new edition as a Princeton Classic. Sugrue has won fellowships and grants from the Guggenheim Foundation, the Fletcher Foundation, the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton, the American Philosophical Society, the American Council of Learned Societies, the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Kellogg Foundation, and the Social Science Research Council. Sugrue is currently finishing Sweet Land of Liberty: The Unfinished Struggle for Racial Equality in the North, which will be published by Random House.

Wednesday, November 2, 2005, 6:00 pm at the Terasen Theatre (Room 1800) SFU Harbour Centre

All are welcome!

